

Get involved

We currently have a range of events in College which provide you with an opportunity to use your voice and explore a range of current topics and issues. Don't forget:

- This week is UK Parliament Week. Today (Thursday 9 November) is your final opportunity to use your voice by helping us to choose our Charity of the Year. Make sure you use your vote!

You can also have a chat with some of our A Level Politics students to learn more about why voting is so important in creating the world you want to see. You can also find out more about registering to vote.

Next week is Anti-Bullying Week (13 - 17 November). The week gives us all a chance to reflect on and celebrate our diverse community, whilst joining the nation in taking a stand against bullying. Join us:

- Monday: wear your odd socks and send a picture to news@huddnewcoll.ac.uk or tag us @huddnewcoll
- Tuesday & Wednesday: tell us how you will play your part in helping to end bullying or share a message for a marginalised community by leaving a message on our tree of kindness. If you submit a message on Wednesday you will need to email it news@huddnewcoll.ac.uk due to the Staff Training Day
- Thursday: our Student Diversity Champions will be highlighting the impact of transphobia and homophobia. You can also collect a free pronoun or Pride badge!

Get ready for your enrichments

Don't forget that block 1 enrichments start on Monday 13 November. If you have booked an enrichment that runs in this session, please ensure that you check your timetable carefully so you are aware of where it will be taking place. The enrichment lead will register you on arrival - we hope you enjoy these experiences, and we look forward to hearing your feedback!

Cyber savvy top tip

Be cyber aware this festive season!

It is important that you stay aware of current scams so that you are one step ahead of the threat from criminals. Below are useful websites to follow for up to date scam information and advice:

With the festive season fast approaching it's time to revisit the Action Fraud and the NCSC advice for online shoppers <https://www.ncsc.gov.uk/news/festive-shoppers-urged-to-be-cyber-aware>

College closure 15 November

Don't forget that College is closed to students on Wednesday 15 November due to the Staff Training Day. Campus is therefore not open to you on this date, and no lessons will take place, either face to face or online.

Thinking about 2024 holidays?

We know that many families start thinking about holidays towards the end of the year. As we approach this period please remember you can access term dates for 2024-25 on the College website. Please check these carefully before booking any holidays. Please note we do not authorise any holidays in term time - missing lessons has a significant impact upon your learning and ultimately the final grade you will achieve.

Term 2 parking permits

Do you hold a current valid driving licence and drive to College? Applications for term two car park permits are now open.

Please note that if you have an autumn parking permit your current permit will expire as we break for Christmas. If you wish to continue parking at College then you must reapply for a new permit

Applications can be made here <https://forms.office.com/e/sZk5dJMFqc>. Where demand exceeds the number of permits these will be allocated via a random number generator. Further information, including the College's parking policy, has been posted in the general MS Teams channel

Did you submit a piece for Black History Month? Don't forget to check if your work is featured in our anthology
